- Please refrain from reserving or occupying a spot by leaving belongings unattended for extended periods.
- When walking in your cosplay outfit outside the park, please mind of the general visitors, wearing an outer garment to conceal the costume and covering your accessories.

■ About cosplay

· Photographing inside the changing rooms is forbidden.

· Please have a consideration of the users coming after you and limit the time of use of the changing rooms to 30 minutes per person.

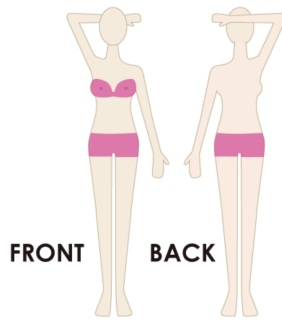

· Please refrain from using objects that might leave the venue or the event facilities dirty.

· Using actual uniforms or military uniforms, whether modern or traditional, is forbidden. (Fictional uniforms appearing in manga or anime are allowed)

· Please pay attention not to harm the image of the characters.

Please deal appropriately with hair in visibly exposed parts, such as armpit hair, leg hair or mustache and beard (scalp hair, eyebrows and eyelashes are excluded). The use of wigs and similar accessories is recommended.

In recent years, we have seen an increase in cases where participants fail to comply with our rules. As a result, we have strengthened our exposure checks. Staff may contact you regarding this matter; please follow their instructions when this occurs. Please take measures to address exposure and ensure your behavior does not violate moral standards.

- Ensure the pink areas in the illustration completely cover your skin. (Skin-tone tights and silicone busts are permitted.)
- Costumes revealing private parts are prohibited. This prohibition applies even if silicone busts or similar items are used.
- Cover your hip line.
- Underwear (including items that resemble underwear) and costumes like seashell bikinis are prohibited.
- Thongs, micro bikinis, and costumes offering equivalent levels of exposure are prohibited.

While strictly adhering to the above rules, if you move around the venue in a highly revealing costume, you must wear an outer garment or similar covering to reduce exposure and show consideration for those around you.

Regardless of the above guidelines, if staff determines that a costume presents an issue or is deemed inappropriate, participants may be required to change costumes or modify their costume accordingly.
